Affidavit of Kayla Orsell Regarding Coordinated Criminal Activity Under RICO Statutes

I, Kayla Orsell, submit this affidavit to document and formally report an ongoing pattern of organized criminal activity involving members of my immediate and extended family, law enforcement personnel, and possible government agency insiders. I believe the scope, coordination, and persistence of these activities meet the criteria established under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act (RICO), codified at 18 U.S.C. §§ 1961–1968.

I. Mail Tampering and Communication Interference

My legal and personal mail has been consistently tampered with, delayed, or unlawfully intercepted. I have hard evidence and firsthand experience indicating that my stepbrother, John Valik, who is employed by the United States Postal Service, is directly involved. Despite his listed income being 38% below average for a postal worker, John Valik—age 37—has recently appeared on public property records as the owner of at least seven high-value properties along Lake Shore Road. These properties are listed under various inconsistent names such as “John M Valik,” “John C Valik,” and “John Valik Jr.”

Online background check platforms reveal conflicting age data tied to these names—showing ages of 37 (John's actual age), 59 (the age of my stepmother), and 64 (the age of my father). These identity inconsistencies suggest deliberate obfuscation or misuse of records to conceal the scope of property holdings and financial dealings.

II. Interference with Legal Proceedings

I filed a 28 U.S.C. § 2241 habeas corpus petition in the Northern District of New York (Orsell v. Spsychalski et al.) on or around November 13, 2024. I also submitted a formal grievance to the NY State Attorney General. I now have credible reason to believe that neither of these communications reached their intended recipients. I received a response from the AG's office suggesting misconduct was acknowledged but not pursued—yet I believe that reply may have been falsified or intercepted. My electronic communications and mail were under constant surveillance or interference at the time, and multiple devices were targeted in what I believe was a coordinated cyberattack.

III. Identity Misuse and Genetic Evidence

In March 2025, I submitted a DNA sample to MyHeritage. The analysis returned a 99.4% identical match to what appeared to be myself or a twin. Further investigation of the raw DNA file revealed the presence of more than 3,000 Y chromosomes—indicating the sample was male. The family matches returned included names linked by background check data to my stepbrother and stepmother. This supports my longstanding suspicion that my true identity and family origins were concealed or manipulated.

IV. Physical and Psychological Abuse

Throughout my childhood, I was subjected to coercion and abuse. I was introduced to illegal drugs by my father at age 16 and used to assist in growing marijuana as young as 5 years old. At age 12, I suffered a severe leg injury and was left in the road screaming in pain. When help arrived, my father forcibly bent my broken leg, worsening the injury. I was denied prompt medical care and made to crawl up stairs using my arms.

As an adult, my housing and safety were repeatedly threatened when I attempted to speak out. My father padlocked my only exit, disabled my vehicles, and coerced me—via threats of homelessness—into accepting a false plea deal when I wished to go to trial.

V. Pattern of Conduct and Coordination

The activities described above are not isolated events. They represent a coordinated pattern of conduct that includes: Mail and communications fraud Property and identity fraud Interference with the courts Physical and psychological abuse Cyber sabotage Possible involvement of public officials and misuse of government positions

Conclusion

These acts constitute an ongoing criminal enterprise under 18 U.S.C. § 1961(1)(B) and § 1962, specifically involving obstruction of justice, mail fraud, wire fraud, and identity fraud—all predicate offenses under the RICO Act.

I am submitting this affidavit in the interest of justice and request that it be reviewed by an appropriate agency with jurisdiction to investigate and intervene. I am prepared to provide physical evidence, digital files, legal documentation, and sworn statements in support of this affidavit.

Respectfully submitted,

Kayla Orsell
